

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Two-Hour Dateline NBC Special on Barry Beach Case Postponed

Montana's for Justice has received word from NBC producer, Shane Bishop, that the two-hour feature special on Barry Beach's claim to innocence, originally scheduled for March 21st has been postponed. According to Bob Kolar, spokesman for Montanans for Justice. "We understand the NBC executives made some last minute decisions about what to run against the NCAA basketball tournament. The producer anticipates the special feature will be rescheduled for sometime in April." Mr. Kolar added, "We're actually hopeful this change will be for the best, possibly even allowing the Barry Beach special feature to win the coveted Sunday evening timeslot. The truth about Barry Beach's wrongful conviction will be aired." For the latest announcements on the Dateline NBC special and for more information on this case, readers can go to www.MontanansForJustice.com .